REPORT OF ORGAN DONATION DAY CELEBRATION

DATE: 23rd January 2025

TIME: 2 am to 4 pm

VENUE: 1st yr B. Sc Nursing Lecture Hall

MAEER College Of Nursing, Talegaon Dabhade Pune.

On 23rd January 2025 Maharashtra University of Health Sciences, Nashik published notification to celebrate Organ Donation campaign for social awareness.

As per MUHS circular MAEER College of Nursing celebrated Organ Donation Campaign on the occasion of World Health Organization Day.

On the occasion of Organ Donation Campaign college has planned various activities. The campaign was started with introduction about campaign. Ms. Shital V. Pawar (Associate Professor) has given brief information about campaign of organ donation by MUHS and it's aims and objective is "To raise & promote awareness & information about the need for organ donors & encourage people to become donor as the recipients are waiting for us".

In the same sequence, Principal Dr. Poorva Manjrekar, delivered an inspiring and motivational speech on importance of organ donation in India. Where she spoke about "Lot of people finds organ donation a difficult subject to discuss, a bit talking about death or making a will. But now a day's transplantation has gradually become the accepted treatment for a number of conditions where organs like kidneys, heart and liver have irreversibly failed so around 200 patients are waiting for an organ transplant. Perhaps this is because at a time one or more people receive donor but another family is suffering a tragic loss. Thus "it starts with you".

Next, a short film based on Organ Donation with the title "Phir Zindagi" has been shown to students.

As the mission of our campaign is to spread awareness. Based on that a quiz competition was held between girls and boys. The questions were drawn based on organ donation, Anatomy and Physiology and Nursing responsibility in organ transplantation. Student enthusiastically participated in quiz competition which also boosted their knowledge in nursing training.

With this all activities the program was end with Vote of Thanks delivered by Ms. Shivani Tekade.

Thanking You..
